Notes

Consumers Wanted: For an Employment Information Bridge to work it requires traffic to flow in both directions. If you are in a Consumer Directed Personal Assistance Program, you will eventually need to find a new Home Care Worker. And up to now you may have relied upon Friends, Family, an Agency or you may have chosen to put your own advertisement on the Internet (See the list of Internet resources on the PCA Employment Agency page of this newsletter). Therefore, to help you find the PCA Candidate of your choice, I urge you, to do everything you ordinarily do, to consider an Internet resource and to try www.ConsumerDirectedServices.com. Finally, if you try Consumer Directed Services, please spread the word. Tell your friends and associates about this FREE service.

RALLY IN ALBANY: Join in on Feb. 25 to Keep Your Independence

By Bryan O'Malley, Executive Director CDPAANYS

There is a saying everyone in the disability community knows. We all recite it routinely- "Nothing about us, without us." On Tuesday, Feb. 25, hundreds of people with disabilities will be heading to Albany to join the Consumer Directed Personal Assistance Association of New York State (CDPAANYS) and the New York Association of Independent Living (NYAIL) for a Lobby Day that will make sure we are part of the process and our voice is heard. You can register for the event at <http://smarturl.it/i3r9s1>.

The question is – will you be there too? Will you come and make yourself heard to protect the services you use, the housing you need, the independence we have all fought so hard for?

CDPAANYS and NYAIL are entering this Lobby Day with an ambitious agenda that focuses on making sure people have the ability to get services in the community, not in nursing homes. We are fighting for higher wages for the workers that consumers who use

Consumer Directed Personal Assistance (CDPAP) hire. We are fighting for basic legal protections when services or hours are cut, ensuring a fair and impartial fair hearing with “aid continuing”, or the right to continue to receive services while disputing cuts.

We are fighting for the future of CDPAP. And it will not be easy. The same groups that have always wanted to keep people with disabilities dependent and poor are also talking to the Legislature. They are making sure that nursing home workers get paid more, so that you cannot find someone to work for you. They are making sure that fair hearings become a thing of the past. They are making sure that consumer direction and your independence stay in a dark corner, used by only a few. They want you to stay home. They want you to be quiet.

They want this because they know Medicaid is changing. They know this change can fundamentally alter the system and create a new one that prioritizes independence and control. This change can be good for people with disabilities. We can use it to create a system that ends the reliance on outdated institutions and shifts services to the community. But, this will only happen if we speak up and make the change work for us.

If you think you can stay home, that you don't have to go because someone else will tell your story for you, you are right. The fact is, someone will tell your story for you; the nursing homes that want you to live there; the managed care plans that want to cut your services without fear of a fair hearing; and the union that wants to keep you from hiring who you want. Your fiscal intermediaries, local independent living centers, NYAIL and CDPAANYS will coordinate the day. All you need to do is show up. We will try to coordinate travel for everyone, so register to make sure that we know you are coming. We will post information on the CDPAANYS website on the issues, so you know what we'll be talking about.

We will give you talking points so you know what to say. But in the end – you know what to say, because this is about you. It is about you coming to Albany to tell your story. It is how these policies affect you. This is what is important. This is what will change the world.

I look forward to meeting you in Albany on Feb. 25.
