Notes

Consumers Wanted: For an Employment Information Bridge to work it requires traffic to flow in both directions. If you are in a Consumer Directed Personal Assistance Program, you will eventually need to find a new Home Care Worker. And up to now you may have relied upon Friends, Family, an Agency or you may have chosen to put your own advertisement on the Internet (See the list of Internet resources on the PCA Employment Agency page of this newsletter). Therefore, to help you find the PCA Candidate of your choice, I urge you, to do everything you ordinarily do, to consider an Internet resource and to try www.ConsumerDirectedServices.com. Finally, if you try Consumer Directed Services, please spread the word. Tell your friends and associates about this FREE service.

Consumer Directed Services is not an Agency. Consumer Directed Services is a FREE employment information bridge between Consumers and Personal Assistant Candidates. All employment and payment decisions are the exclusive responsibility of the Consumer.

CMS is about to launch the Independence at Home demonstration. The effort has a worthy goal: keeping chronically ill seniors in their homes and communities for as long as possible. The program is set up so physicians and nurse practitioners will direct teams of health professionals to coordinate primary home care. For now, here's the carrot: If they reduce Medicare costs by at least 5% (as compared with more traditional office- and hospital-based care), the teams will receive a share of any savings beyond that threshold. But what happens if or when the 5% goal becomes a requirement? Actually, I think we all know the answer.

Since the 1970s, she has fought tirelessly to improve access to health care and long-term quality of life for people with disabilities. She is a founding member of DIA (Disabled In Action) of Metropolitan New York.
